

```
graph TD
    subgraph Core_Argument [The badness of death core Argument]
        A[Argument for the badness of death
Death is bad for me.]
    end

    subgraph Existence_Requirements [The Existence Requirements]
        B[The Existence Requirement
Something can be bad for you only if you exist.]
        C[The Modest Existence Requirement
Something can be bad for you only if you exist at some time or the other
(i.e. unborn people never existed)]
        D[The Bold Existence Requirement
Something can be bad for you only if you exist at the very same time as the thing that's supposed to be bad for you.]
    end

    subgraph Deprivation_Account [The deprivation account]
        E[The tragedy of unborn people
There are countless billions of people that could have existed, but were never born. It is therefore a great tragedy that they are deprived of goods of life they might otherwise be getting.]
        F[The deprivation account
Non-existence deprives you of the goods of life you might otherwise be getting.]
    end

    subgraph Badness [Intrinsic and Comparative badness]
        G[Intrinsic badness
Non-existence is bad for me intrinsically]
        H[Comparative badness
Non-existence is bad for me comparatively.]
    end

    I[Non-existence can't be bad for me intrinsically. It can't be that non-existence is intrinsically bad and worth avoiding for its own sake. That would only make sense if non-existence was somehow, for example, painful. But when you don't exist, you have no painful experiences. There's nothing about non-existence that makes us want to avoid it.]
    J[My death is bad for me DURING the time I'm dead. Because during that time, I'm deprived of the good things in life that I would be getting if only I were still alive.]
    K[There are some things that are true that we can't put a date on.]
    L[Gunshot wound can take several days to lead to person's death.]

    A --> B
    A --> C
    B --> D
    C --> D
    D --> E
    D --> F
    E --> F
    F --> G
    F --> H
    G --> I
    H --> I
    I --> J
    J --> K
    K --> L
    L --> K
    K --> D
    D --> A
    D --> B
    D --> C
    D --> E
    D --> F
    D --> G
    D --> H
    D --> I
    D --> J
    D --> K
    D --> L
```

